

ACCIDENTAL OR OCCASIONAL USE

PREVENTION

WHAT IT IS

- First contact with pornography.
- It happens occasionally (not compulsively).
- There is a feeling of discomfort combined with physiological arousal.
- It may come from: curiosity, adolescence itself, accidental contact (the internet or friends), managing anxiety or seeking pleasure.

CONSEQUENCES

- Early use can predispose to developing problematic use.
- It can produce unpleasant emotions: shame, disgust, fear or guilt.
- It is the gateway to risky use.
- It leaves a mark on the person's affective and sexual learning.
- An experience of loneliness and/or emptiness.

KEY POINTS

- Do not overreact.
- Explain what pornography is and warn of possible risks.
- Develop a family plan for prevention.
- It is an educational opportunity.

HABITUAL USE

ATTENTION

WHAT IT IS

- Use has settled and is frequent.
- They use it to manage certain emotions such as stress, boredom or social isolation.
- A certain dependence on it for managing emotions develops.
- They have normalised it and have little awareness of its possible risks.

CONSEQUENCES

- It creates false expectations about affection and sexuality.
- It brings in stereotypes linked to violence against women.
- It can affect their self-esteem and self-concept.
- It can encourage isolation and loneliness.
- There is an imminent risk of developing problematic use or addiction.

KEY POINTS

- Accompany the teenager with empathy and without judging them personally.
- Look at the reasons for use and offer alternatives.
- Assess the use with a professional to determine its impact.
- Offer critical thinking to tell pornography apart from sexuality.

PROBLEMATIC USE

INTERVENTION

WHAT IT IS

- Loss of control over the behaviour.
- They do it compulsively and/or anxiously.
- They show an inability to stop and/or failed attempts to give up the behaviour.
- Deception, lies and concealment about it.
- They manage their emotions exclusively through pornography.
- They may show symptoms of addiction (tolerance, withdrawal or relapses).

CONSEQUENCES

- Development of a serious addiction sustained over time.
- Serious impact on affective and sexual relationships.
- Effects on mood and affect.
- Harmful consequences in different areas: academic, personal, romantic, social, sexual, family and/or spiritual.

KEY POINTS

- See a specialist.
